

It takes the right players to get to your goal

Successful saving isn't that different from getting the puck in the goal. You need to have your eye on the prize, make a few sacrifices along the way and have the right players helping you to move closer to the goal.

The Tax Free Savings Account (TFSA) is a fairly new player in the savings game. Introduced in 2009 to Canadians over the age of 18 last year, the TFSA is a registered savings account that allows you to invest up to $5000 per year and withdraw whenever you'd like, all without a penny paid in taxes.

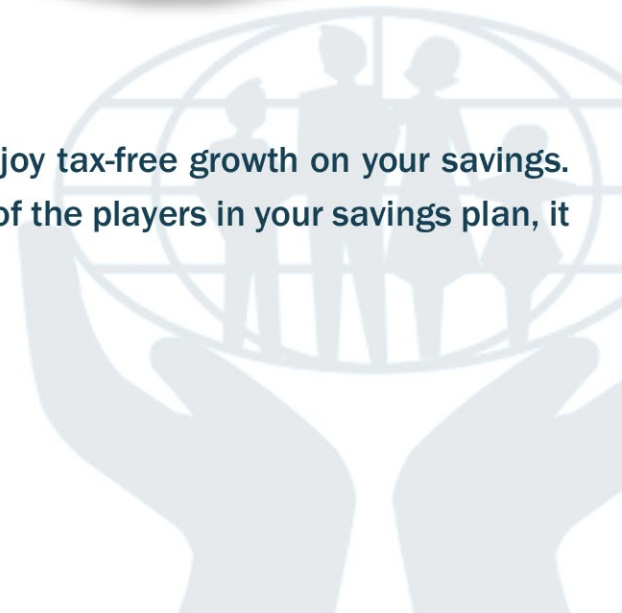

You get to:

- earn income tax free
- make income tax free withdrawals anytime
- contribute a maximum of $5000 per year
- carry your unused contributions forward indefinitely

Your contributions aren't tax deductible, but you get to enjoy tax-free growth on your savings. It's a great product on its own, but when you use it as one of the players in your savings plan, it can be part of an amazing savings power play.
